GODS ACCORDING TO AL GORE ~ SEEKS WISDOM FROM NATURE & EARTH GODDESS

A pagan in sheep's clothing Al Gore says, "A common thread in many religions is the sacred quality of water. Christians are baptized in water, as a sign of purification. The Quran declares that 'we have created everything from water.' In the Lotus 'Sutra,' Buddha is presented metaphorically as a 'rain cloud,' covering, permeating, fertilizing and enriching 'all parched living beings, to free them from their misery to attain the joy of peace, joy of the present world and joy of Nirvana...."²

Like many New Age gurus, Gore attempts to merge all faiths into one with a focus on the earth deity:

"The richness and diversity of our religious tradition throughout history is a spiritual resource long ignored by people of faith, who are often afraid to open their minds to teachings first offered outside their own system of belief. But the emergence of a civilization in which knowledge moves freely and almost instantaneously throughout the world has...spurred a renewed investigation of the wisdom distilled by all faiths. This pan-religious perspective may prove especially important where our global civilization's responsibility for the earth is concerned."³

Ex 34:12-15- "Take heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for a snare in the midst of thee: 13 But ye shall destroy their altars, break their images, and cut down their groves: 14 For thou shalt worship no other god: for the Lord, whose name is Jealous, is a jealous God: 15 Lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods, and one call thee, and thou eat of his sacrifice;" KJV

The world's cultural problem is separation from God, not from nature. While God told us to care for the earth, He warned us against pagan religions. Contrary to the revived myths now flooding the Western world, nature-worship brings violence and destruction, not peace and harmony to the land. -- Read Deuteronomy 8, 9, 18, and 28.

"Earth in the Balance" by Al Gore

Vice President Al Gore offers some alarming clues about his view of God in his book, Earth in the Balance; Ecology and the Human Spirit.⁴ Al Gore speaks with a double-twisted-tongue when he talks about religion. During his political campaigns in America, he professes to be "Southern Baptist Christian to the electorate"; then he begins his book by championing his pantheistic beliefs."we feel increasingly distant from our roots in the earth....civilization itself has been on a journey from its foundations in the world of nature to an ever more contrived, controlled and manufactured world of our initiative and sometimes arrogant design.... At some point during this journey we lost our feeling of connectedness to the rest of nature.... We dare now to wonder: Are we so unique and powerful as to be essentially separate from the earth?" Can you see the doublespeak or 'newspeak' of public policies in this man?

Gore identifies the root problem of Western culture in that "we lost our feeling of connectedness to the rest of nature" and finds answers in pantheism. He attempts to blend Christianity and pantheism where the source of all life, instead of God has become Mother God, (Mother Earth/Mother Nature also frequently referred to as Gaia). He, like the radical eco-feminists who support him, see the earth as the pagan goddess Gaia who "has been seriously 'wounded' by the expansion of human civilization, and now there must come a universal atonement for these many millennia of grief on 'her' part" through an event or process they call 'cleansing.'

GODDESS WORSHIP:

“The spiritual sense of our place in nature...can be traced to the origins of human civilization...in prehistoric Europe and much of the world was based on the worship of a single earth goddess, who was assumed to be the fount of all life and who radiated harmony among all living things...the notion that a goddess religion was ubiquitous throughout much of the world until the antecedents of today's religions (meaning Christianity, Judaism which he attempts to link to Hinduism), most of which still have a distinctly masculine orientation--swept out of India and the Near East, almost obliterating belief in the goddess. The last vestige of organized goddess worship was eliminated by Christianity...it seems obvious that a better understanding of a religious heritage preceding our own by so many thousands of years could offer us new insights..."⁵

⁵ Gore, Earth in Balance, (pp 260)

Vice President Gore's "faith-friendly" campaign hides beliefs that oppose Christianity and his Baptist roots on every point. The evidence is in his 1992 book, Earth in the Balance - Ecology and the Human Spirit. It calls for a "pan-religious perspective" that attempts to conform Christianity to the UN vision of social and religious solidarity. The old biblical absolutes simply don't fit the new global spirituality needed as a foundation for a new earth-centered ethic. Whether Buddhist, Baha'i, Native American, or "Christian" (the words sound Biblical but the cross is missing), each model for this blended spirituality must be:

- Pantheistic: god is all, god is in everything.
- Monistic: all are one, all are spiritually interconnected.
- Evolving: always ready to adapt to the changing requirements of our globalist leaders and of the Total Quality Management process used to "re-invent

Former Vice President Al Gore Applauds President-Elect BARACK MOHAMMED HUSSEIN OBAMA

Try the spirits whether they are of God (1 Jn. 4:1) "...and Believe not every spirit". All people are commanded to examine all spiritual things with our critical faculties to see if the Word of God is being presented. There are evil spirits that can produce paranormal phenomena therefore we are exhorted by the Scripture to prove the spirits or test the spirits; prove all things; hold fast only to that which is good.

government." ⁶⁷

- For Gore and other environmentalists, the Judeo-Christian faith is the source of ecological evil, from oil spills to global warming. He asserts it is ignorant Christians who are afraid to open their minds to teachings outside their own system of belief who have become a dangerous threat to the survival of humanity...blights on the environment. To Al Gore, it seems obvious that a better understanding of a religious heritage preceding our own by so many thousands of years could offer us new insights.⁸
- Gore calls for a new spiritual relationship between man and earth and points to ancient goddess or nature worship.
- "The spiritual sense of our place in nature predates Native American cultures; increasingly it can be traced to the origins of human civilization. A growing number of anthropologists and archaeomythologists, such as Marija Gimbutas and Riane Esler argue that the prevailing ideology of belief prehistoric Europe and much of the world was based on the worship of a single earth goddess, who was assumed to be the fount of all life and who radiated harmony among all living things. Much of the evidence for the existence of this primitive religion comes from the many thousands of artifacts uncovered in ceremonial sites. These sites are so widespread that they seem to confirm the notion that a goddess religion was ubiquitous through much of the world until the antecedents of today's religions, most of which still have a distinctly masculine orientation...swept out of India and the Near East, almost obliterating belief in the goddess. The last vestige of organized goddess worship was eliminated by Christianity as late as the fifteenth century in Lithuania."
- This is pure Pantheistic paganism in its truest form.
- They exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshipped and served created things rather than the Creator--who is forever praised. Amen. --Romans 1:25

Gore is just putting into words what the New Age Religion has been saying for a long time. What Gore is saying is he wants of to adopt a pan-religious perspective that will bring in other religions and mix them with Christianity so we have a pan-religious viewpoint. He advocates that we particularly be concerned with Native American Religions, all of which are very paganistic and pantheistic. That is a direct contradiction of scripture. The Bible states that the earth was created for man, not man for the earth. The Bible says that man was originally given dominion over this earth. Man lost that dominion as result of his sin. And that Jesus won that dominion back at the cross. And that when Jesus returns He will give that dominion back to those who put their love and trust in Him and man will once again exercise dominion over this earth.

Former Vice President Al Gore spoke at Keller Auditorium to promote his new book on climate change. During the show, hundreds of people gathered across the street to rally against his message.

Members and supporters of the Americans for Prosperity group held up signs to expose what they believe are the extreme economic costs behind federal climate change policies.

Meanwhile, Gore supporters packed the auditorium and gave the former vice president a standing ovation,

At the speech, Obama also seemingly blasted the "Christian Right" for hijacking religion and using it to divide the nation:

"Somehow, somewhere along the way, faith stopped being used to bring us together and started being used to drive us apart. It got hijacked. Part of it's because of the so-called leaders of the Christian Right, who've been all too eager to exploit what divides us," he said.

President Obama worships everything that is called god by all pagans, Muslims, and Hindus, such as:

- Statues of foreign gods; Buddha, fertility; Crystal stones, peeping stones; Black stones
- Hindu statues of gods and goddesses, snake beetles, etc.
- Egyptian symbols, art and jewelry
- Human beings as gods and idols

Marxism Militant Atheism

Exiled Soviet writer Aleksander Solzhenitsyn, winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1970, which he was unable to collect, received this award from the hand of King Carl Gustav, December 10, 1974, in Stockholm

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, The man credited with exposing the brutality of Stalin’s purges and gulag system has died aged 89. Nobel prize winning author Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn was expelled from the Soviet Union in 1974 but returned to Russia before he died. The Solzhenitsyn's books were the first to tell millions of people across the world about Stalin’s despotic death system. Says; "But the world had never before known a godlessness as organized, militarized and tenaciously malevolent as that practiced by Marxism. Within the philosophical system of population devoid of religious feelings. The degree to which the atheistic world longs to annihilate religion, the extent to which religion sticks in its throat, was demonstrated by the web of intrigue surrounding the attempt on the life of Pope John Paul 11 in 1981."¹⁴

Yet in Russia--where churches have been leveled, where tens of thousands of priests, monks and nuns were tortured, shot in cellars, sent to brutal camps, where triumphant atheism has rampaged uncontrolled for two-thirds of a century, where even today people are sent to labor camps for their faith--the Christian tradition survives.¹⁵

It is here that we see the dawn of hope: for no matter how formidably communism bristles with tanks and rockets, it is doomed never to vanquish Christianity.¹⁶

The West has yet to experience a communist invasion: religion remains free. But the West, too, is experiencing drying up of religious consciousness. Since the late Middle Ages, the tide of secularism has progressively inundated the West. This gradual sapping of strength from within is a threat to faith that is perhaps even more dangerous than any attempt to assault religion violently from without."¹⁷

BRAINWASHING THE WORLD

"We have before us the opportunity to forge for ourselves and for future generations a new world order, a world where the rule of law, not the rule of the jungle, governs the conduct of nations. When we are successful, and we will be, we have a real chance at this new world order, an order in which a credible United Nations can use its peacekeeping role to fulfill the promise and vision of the U.N.'s founders."

- President George Bush, 1991

Dostoevsky said of the French Revolution and its seething hatred of the church that "revolution must necessarily begin with atheism."

G. Brock Chisholm, was a leftist Canadian psychiatrist, and director of the World Health Organization (WHO), a vehicle for a one-world government, attached to the United Nations which is dominated by the Communists and their satellite countries. He set the course for WHO and its role in brainwashing for his plan for world improvements. . . Sex Ed, New Morality, Self Confession, the lack of right and wrong, group consensus, and only loyalty toward One-World, as condensed in the World Citizenship Credo of the United Nations. Get it? ²⁰After the formation of the U. N. at San Francisco in 1945, the first international gathering called by the U. N. was the International Health Conference in New York, July 1946. This conference drafted a constitution for a World Health Organization and it set up an Interim Commission to function in lieu of the World Health Organization until that international agency could be formally of Interpersonal Relations of February 1946. In that publication, Chisholm is quoted as making the following statements:

“We are all now, perforce, citizens of the world, whether we are sufficiently mature adequately to carry that responsible put together. Chisholm, was named executive secretary of this Interim commission and the first Director General of the World Health Organization. Its purpose, (according to its constitution) is “to foster activities in the field of mental health, especially those affecting the harmony of human relations.”²¹

Chisholm’s thinking can be found in a series of lectures which appeared in Psychiatry Journal of the Biology and the Pathology. We have swallowed all manner of poisonous certainties fed us by our parents, our Sunday and day school teachers, our politicians, our priests, our newspapers and others with a vested interest in controlling us.”²²

“The reinterpretation and eventual eradication of the concept of right and wrong which has been the basis of child training, the substitution of intelligent and rational thinking for faith in the certainties of the old people, these are the belated objectives of practically all effective psychotherapy. . .”

“The responsibility for charting the necessary changes in human behavior rests clearly on the scientists working in that field.”²³

Thus it can be seen that Chisholm set the stage to mold, by using “change agents,” human behavior.

In 1951 UNESCO, “United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural Organization” brought the chain of power behind sensitivity training to a focus by imposing the UNESCO doctrine of “Social Health” on the United States. This was done through the U. N. Joint Commission of Mental Health of which “our” National Education Association with its National Training Laboratories is a member.²⁴

What is the UNESCO doctrine of social health?

BELIEF IN ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT

In the year 1951 the National Association for Mental Health, part of Health, Education & Welfare, and subordinate to UNESCO and WHO, announced: “The principles of mental health cannot be successfully furthered unless there is acceptance of the concept of world government. “ And then: “Our chief problem is. . . how individual and group resistance to change can be overcome. Or do you prefer, ‘We shall overcome?’”²⁵

The late Congressman Usher L. Burdick said: “To bring this country into line to accept world government, many things must be done by the U. N. and her agencies, such as UNESCO. First of all, love of country is found by these conspirators to be very deep and hard to destroy. Here UNESCO comes into play, to teach these children, with specially trained teachers, that love of country interferes with loyalty to a world organization, that they must transfer their loyalty to a world organization.”²⁶

The “specially trained teachers” now come, in a steady stream, from the many teachers’ colleges where sensitivity training is mandatory.

The inroads made by the “mental healthers” in the field of education were spotlighted in Life Magazine. An article, New Tests in Our Schools + Three R’s and A P (for psyche) in the September 21, 1962 issue said:²⁷ “In the first few weeks of the new school year several million pupils from the first grade through senior high school will open examination booklets that pose some surprisingly personal questions. Among some things mentioned by LIFE were:

“Are you too nervous? Most of the time I wish I was dead. I hear strange things when I am alone. I am afraid I am losing my mind.”²⁸

Congressman John Ashbrook (R-Ohio) on October 10, 1962, introduced HR 10508 which would bar psychological testing of students, without advance permission from parents. Ashebrook cited examples of widely used tests which included: "Difficult or impossible to answer questions and tests which pit loyalties of religion, home and parents against each other." ²⁹

While the Humanist Religion is preached in the public school classrooms, the Humanist censors and book burners have systematically rewritten the textbooks of history, social studies and others to exclude or minimize reference to religious life in America: Jewish history, past or present; Christianity; marriage as the origin and foundation of the Family; words 'marriage,' 'wedding,' 'husband,' 'wife,' 'homemaker,' 'housewife,' American military successes or military heroes. Since Humanists are atheists, the falsehood of evolution of man from animals is taught, even though there is not a single shred of evidence to justify it. ³⁰

Congressman Don Edward (Calf.) opened the Regional Conference for Humanists of Los Gatos in 1973, speaking on Humanism on Capitol Hill. He reported that much of the Humanist Manifesto has already been enacted into law, and that if the voters will elect a few more good Humanist Congressmen and Senators, they will pass the remainder of the Manifesto into law.

He proposed an Amendment to the Protection of Pupils Rights section (i.e., Section 439 of the General Education Provisions Act requires parental consent for non-scholastic and non-achievement oriented testing). ³¹

The Hatch-Protection of Pupils Rights Amendment passed unanimously by the U. S. Senate in 1978. Excellent regulations were drafted in 1982 by conservatives in the Office of The General Counsel. They have not seen the light of day because Secretary Bell doesn't like them. ³²

Bell writes: "They may disturb educationists "Modus operandi," with their persistent efforts to change the values, attitudes and beliefs of students to bring about a socialist/humanist One World Government." ³³

The movement to socialize America via education was largely financed by foundation funds. Rockefeller and Carnegie funds provided financing for the radical movement in education which was led by such people as Counts, Dewey, Kilpatrick and Rugg. Direct grants were made to the National Education Association, American Historical Association, Teachers College and Columbia University.

HOLDEST FAST TO MY NAME

Rev. 2:13, "I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth." KJV

Jesus told His disciples in Mark 16:14-20, "Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. 15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. 16 He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. 17 And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; 18 .They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. 19 So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God. 20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen." KJV

Jesus warned that the great deception of the end time would be false prophets.

We must be discerning Christians because He is coming soon. Meantime, Satan is preparing the world to receive his manufactured Antichrist. Matthew 24:5, "For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many." KJV

"THE LORD TRIETH THE RIGHTEOUS."
Psalm 11:5

All events are under the control of Providence; consequently all the trials of our outward life are traceable at once to the great First Cause. Out of the golden gate of God's ordinance the armies of trial march forth in array, clad in their iron armour, and armed with weapons of war. All providences are doors to trial. Even our mercies, like roses, have their thorns. Men may be drowned in seas of prosperity as well as in rivers of affliction. Our mountains are not too high, and our valleys are not too low for temptations: trials lurk on all roads. Everywhere, above and beneath, we are beset and surrounded with dangers. Yet no shower falls unpermitted from the threatening cloud; every drop has its order ere it hastens to the earth. The trials which come from God are sent to prove and strengthen our graces, and so at once to illustrate the power of divine grace, to test the genuineness of our virtues, and to add to their energy. Our Lord in His infinite wisdom and superabundant love, sets so high a value upon His people's faith that He will not screen them from those trials by which faith is strengthened. You would never have possessed the precious faith which now supports you if the trial of your faith had not been like unto fire. You are a tree that never would have rooted so well if the wind had not rocked you to and fro, and made you take firm hold upon the precious truths of the covenant grace. Worldly ease is a great foe to faith; it loosens the joints of holy valour, and snaps the sinews of sacred courage. The balloon never rises until the cords are cut; affliction doth this sharp service for believing souls. While the wheat sleeps comfortably in the husk it is useless to man, it must be threshed out of its resting place before its value can be known. Thus it is well that Jehovah trieth the righteous, for it causeth them to grow rich towards God.

Two spirits are operating, it is important that the church pray for the discerning of spirits. "Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. 2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: 3 And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world," --1 John 4:1-3.
